

Aboriginal Advisory Group

Do you have:

- knowledge and/or experience of NSW Aboriginal gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, sistergirl or HIV positive communities?
- experience working in adult education?
- an interest in Aboriginal programs and services?
- energy, time and a commitment to attend four, 2 hour meetings this year?
- other skills that would benefit the Advisory Group?

Yes?

ACON is currently seeking applications from interested people to join our Aboriginal Advisory Group.

The Aboriginal Advisory Group assists ACON by:

- being an informative source of knowledge for ACON staff who are working on projects for our community
- providing feedback on our educational campaigns, events and outreach services provided by the Aboriginal Project
- helping us to develop and maintain partnerships with other Aboriginal health sector agencies
- participating in our strategic planning activities in relation to issues for Aboriginal gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender, sistergirl and HIV positive people in NSW
- reviewing and commenting on our business plan as well as staff work plans of the Aboriginal Project

Interested persons should submit a one page application to the Chairperson of the Advisory Group. In your application, please outline:

- a short bio about yourself
- a list of relevant skills you can bring to the Advisory Group.

Once received, your application will be voted on at the next Advisory Group meeting. Applications can be submitted online at www.acon.org.au/aboriginal, emailed to mgrose@acon.org.au or posted to ACON Aboriginal Advisory Group Chairperson PO Box 350 Darlinghurst NSW 1300 at any time during the year. The Advisory Group members will be offered a sitting fee of $70 per meeting.

ACON promotes the health and wellbeing of NSW's Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender (GLBT) community. We also provide information and support for people living with HIV or at risk of acquiring HIV, including sex workers and people who use drugs. We're a community-based non-government organisation. This means the work we do is done in our community, for our community and by members of our community.

We provide various projects including the Aboriginal Project, Anti-Violence Project, Sex Workers Outreach Project, a Knowledge Centre, a Needle and Syringe (NSP) service, youth peer education, a Positive Living Centre and much more. For more information about ACON and the work we do please visit www.acon.org.au
